

BI-04P.01 Vehicle interactions are considered as part of the short-term planning processes

Expectations

Mobile equipment interactions and operating requirements are always considered when approving, planning and scheduling work.

Specify

Short term planning processes consider Operator control requirements as well as vehicle and work group interactions.

Implement

Technical planners and operational superintendents review skills of available operators and vehicle/work group interactions during planning.

Supervisors issue instructions based on short term plans.