

CFM 5SD-02 Organisation processes to identify and manage fatigue and other impairment risks are inadequate

Organisation processes to identify and manage fatigue and other impairment risks are inadequate (specification), caused by:

- Inadequate breaks between shifts
- Shift patterns including travel time
- Inadequate consideration of social factors e.g. religious observations, community norms for alcohol and other drug use
- Failure to correctly identify potential for impairment arising from the use of mobile phones and/or other personal electronic devices

Credible Failure mode is addressed by:

- 🛡️ BI-01D.03 Fit for work processes with specific advice on self-management
- 🛡️ BI-01S.50 Introduce technology to support existing fatigue management approaches
- 🛡️ BI-01S.51 Fatigue status data send
- 🛡️ BI-01T.50 Fatigue alert alarms
- 🛡️ BI-05D.04 Position descriptions that specify expected supervisor performance
- 🛡️ BI-05D.05 Site fatigue management processes are comprehensive and optimise work rosters
- 🛡️ BI-05S.06 Comprehensive fitness for work process includes alcohol and other drugs
